Company Profile

MorphoTrak is the world leader in multibiometric technologies for fingerprint, iris and facial recognition, and an acknowledged expert in identification systems. Its solutions meet a wide range of security needs for people, companies and governments worldwide, including identity management, personal rights for residents and travelers, physical access to airports or other high-value sites, and logical access, either online or via secure terminals.

MorphoTrak provides biometric and identity management solutions to the U.S. and Canadian markets. Formed in April 2009 from the merger of Sagem Morpho, Inc and Motorola's biometric division, Printrak, MorphoTrak employs over 450 persons. MorphoTrak headquarters are located near Washington D.C., with major corporate facilities in Anaheim, CA and Federal Way, WA, and regional facilities throughout the U.S.

MorphoTrak's combined U.S. customer base includes over 50% of the law enforcement biometric identification systems at the state and local level. Key references at the Federal level include Morpho algorithms at the core of the current FBI Integrated Automatic Fingerprint Identification System (IAFIS), and Printrak fingerprint identification systems currently used by a number of national security and defense programs. Morpho and Printrak also provide civil identification products and services to several state and local government agencies in the U.S.

MorphoTrak and its global parent -- Morpho -- are leading innovators in large fingerprint identification systems, facial and iris recognition, as well as identification technologies such as smart cards, secure travel documents, e-passports, and drivers' licenses. With world-class biometric and identity management products and services, MorphoTrak serves commercial and government customers in the markets of law enforcement, border management, civil identification, facility/IT security and access control.
